

Marc Mercier's Body Corporate Law in QLD – Practice and Procedure is the first of its kind in Queensland. BCLQ brings together all the key elements of Queensland strata law, policy and procedure in one space and assists the reader to understand both case law and practice implications against the statutory framework. Against a dynamic legislative environment with significant legislative reforms on the horizon, BCLQ will be an enduring and trusted resource that will see continual updates with forthcoming editions.

Marc Mercier has a diverse background in the law and alternative dispute resolution in Queensland. Practicing as a Barrister-at-Law specialising in body corporate law, commercial law, criminal and family law, Marc is also a Nationally Accredited Mediator, a registered Family Dispute Resolution Practitioner and practices in the areas of family and commercial mediation.

“ Body Corporate law is a challenging area of practice involving an understanding of many interlocking pieces of legislation. The writing of BCLQ was motivated by the need to harness together the fragmented nature of strata law in a meaningful and practical way to assist legal practitioners and other industry professionals to navigate this often complex area of law. ”
